Company Name Change

We wish to announce that BLP Components Ltd has changed its trading name to Dialight BLP Ltd.

This name change follows the change in our group name from Roxboro plc to Dialight plc on September 29th 2005.

Following this name change, our despatch, invoice and company paperwork will detail our new company name along with the new company logo. Our banking and financial details remain unaffected, along with our contracts and standard business terms and conditions.

Our email addresses, website address, telephone and fax details remain unaffected.

Should you require any further information or clarification regarding this change, please contact us.

Yours sincerely
